Newsletter Issue - Summer 2016

Introduction

Summer is finally here and I hope you all have some holiday planned over the coming months. I am off to Download Festival this weekend and I cannot wait!

In this newsletter you will find a couple of big events announced and we hope you will attend at least one.

The last few months have been very busy with gaming shows, with the likes of Salute and Norwich's very own Diceni. Salute is always a good show and at least half of Aftermath's members attended this year, including a few first time visitors who had a great day and spent plenty of money on new shiny toys which I hope to see on the table tops over the next few months. Diceni had its biggest attendance yet with over 4000 people through the doors of the forum in Norwich, not a bad achievement for a show that is only 4 years old! The day went smoothly and it was lots of fun with a great atmosphere, this was all down to Lee Lowe and his hard working team all of whom were Aftermath members so a massive thank you and well done to all of those that helped out on the day. Bring on the 5th anniversary next year!

Please share with me any exciting projects you have this year.

Until next time. May the dice gods be with you.

Afterbolt IV

Aftermaths fourth Bolt Action Tournament is going to be on the 13th/14th August at the Clubs venue. Last year we sold out 50 tickets for this event but have decided to downscale it this year to keep it in the club venue making it easier to run so expect it to sell out fast!

Kings of war campaign

Aftermaths Kings of War campaign has been running since the beginning of the year and is now going into its final round. There has been lots of battles fought, friends lost and enemy's made. You can check out what's been going on by following the blog here - <https://kingsofcampaign.wordpress.com>

Last month I went to Mantic Games open day and CEO Ronnie Renton has been following the blog and was kind enough to sign a copy of the new Destiny of Kings book as a prize for the winner of the campaign!
